Dear Michael,

Now that we are settled into our new offices, I just wanted to thank you for your assistance in helping us find a new location. Considering our specific needs regarding the type of space we were looking for and the location we had targeted, you did an excellent job in sourcing out appropriate opportunities. That indicated that you listened to your client and focused on our needs. Additionally given the tight timelines that we had to work with, you approached the task with single-minded motivation. Your eagerness to please your client, your professionalism and your expertise made our experience in finding a new location a great one.

Thank you for all your help.

Sincerely,

Presentation Services
